

Being Just and Fair:

Being Just and fair means treating all the people with same rules and laws.

Students' Learning Outcomes

Identify fairness and unfairness in their daily lives.

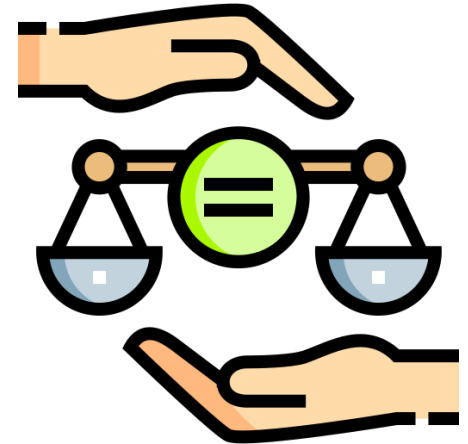

All humans are equal. No one is superior to other.

Rich = Poor

White = Black

In fact, persons from all the countries are all equal. It doesn't matter to which country they belong.

European = Asian

Fairness:

If all the students in a classroom are treated equally. This situation is called "fairness".

- Both girls and boys should have equal rights to play in the playground with alternative days. This is a fair deal.
- If we take anything from our class fellow and take care of it. It is a fair thing.

Unfairness:

But if some students are treated superior to the others. This situation is called "unfairness".

- Students playing in a playground should play together. But if all the students play together, leaving one student alone. This very unfair.
- But if we take a pencil from our class fellow and break it for him. This an unfair deal.

Making unfair thing into fair things:

We can make these unfair situations to fair situations by distributing resources equally.

Students' Learning Outcomes

Identify ways of making unfair situations fair.

Share Toys Equally: If some friends do not have toys to play with, share your toys so everyone can have fun.

Wait for your turns: When playing games, wait for your turn so, everyone gets a chance to play and no one feels left out.

Include Everyone: Invite all classmates to join in activities like games or group projects so nobody feels left out.

Help Each Other: If someone needs help with schoolwork, offer to help them so everyone can succeed.

Treating unfair:

If we treat others unfairly, we should take the responsibility and mend the situation accordingly. There are some certain ways to make things better.

Students' Learning Outcomes

Accept responsibility for treating others unfairly and mend their behaviour accordingly.

Ways to make things better

Say sorry: we should tell the person that we are sorry for treating them unfairly.

Be kind: We should show kindness to everyone, just like we want them to be kind to us.

Make things right: we should make things better.

Change behaviour: we should change our behaviour and promise to try to treat them fairly from now on.
